PRICING POLICY

Tweezerman International has various policies that have helped build Tweezerman into the best known, most respected, personal care tool brand in the country.

These policies include delivering the highest quality personal care tools in the market at any price, advertising the brand consistently in consumer fashion magazines, educating editors of the beauty and fashion press, providing free re-sharpening, and earning a reputation for caring about employees, customers, retailers, distributors, suppliers, and communities.

A very important policy that we have operated since the founding of the company in 1980 is that we will not supply retailers who do not protect our reputation as the quality leader. We believe that offering line discounts greater than 10 percent from our suggested retail price harms our reputation. The purpose of this letter is to restate and clarify Tweezerman International's policy regarding pricing of its products. It is our policy not to supply our line in circumstances in which it will be sold at discounts greater than 10 percent from the suggested retail price. This policy is based on over three decades of effort to build a strong quality brand that is accepted by the marketplace to be the premium personal care tool brand.

There are legal limitations that prohibit us from agreeing with our retailers on the price at which they resell our products. In contrast, we are permitted to announce a pricing policy and to cease to deal with retailers who do not comply with that policy. Accordingly, we will cease dealing with retailers who price our line at discounts greater than 10 percent from the suggested retail price.

We believe that this policy is in the best interests of all of our stakeholders including our retailers.
